

NOTA 740 X

A recognized Italian brand of loudspeakers

Indiana Line is one of the most important Italian brands present on the audio market, with traditions dating back to 1977. Its goal has always been to provide customers with products characterized by the highest quality of workmanship, and at the same time the rational use of components. These assumptions allowed to introduce to the market the models that achieve unusual sonic qualities, going far beyond the parameters possible to obtain in the same price range.

Unusually emotional sound of the Nota series loudspeakers

The loudspeakers belonging to the Nota series offer the efficiency necessary to ensure high-quality sound as well as high dynamics. They are able to handle the power ensured by even the most advanced audio systems. Thanks to this, in the listening room we can guarantee amazing emotions, almost like at a concert listened to "live" or recreate dialogues and sound effects at the appropriate level while watching action movies. All this while maintaining for a customer a favorable value for money.

Italian style central speaker

The timeless acoustical construction of the Indiana Line Nota 740 X cabinet is a confirmation of the craftsmanship of the Italian design thought. The contoured side panels have been finished with a durable and aesthetic vinyl, which is offered in two colours – black oak or light walnut. Nota 740 X in an appropriately selected colour variant will not only decorate the interior, but will also surprise you with its dynamic sound, providing an emotional and powerful sound.

Drivers in the D'Appolito configuration

The Indiana Line Nota 740 X model is a 2-way design with a bass reflex cabinet with a rear firing port. It uses two 107 mm mid-woofers with mica-reinforced polypropylene cones and a 26 mm tweeter with a light silk dome and a neodymium magnet. They have been placed according to the D'Appolito configuration (the tweeter is located between the woofers). The polypropylene cones of the mid-woofers gently and smoothly reproduce the sound of the midrange, and at the same time guarantee good deep bass reproduction. Moreover, the tweeter filter uses only air coils and foil capacitors, keeping the treble clear and distinct. But it's not everything! The user can also adjust the sound to the room acoustics and personal preferences. Just insert the included foam plug into the ventilation port to modify the level of bass that is reproduced.

An irreplaceable element of a home theater system

The Nota 740 X central speaker – because of its characteristic, horizontal construction – will be useful, first of all, in a home theater system, e.g. 5.0 or 5.1-channel. It will perfectly emphasize, among others, film dialogues or the voice of the lector. If you decide to use it, we recommend creating a set of speakers with other Indiana Line constructions from the Nota line, e.g. the Nota 550 X floorstanding speakers and the Nota 260 X or Nota 240 X bookshelf speakers. This will ensure consistency not only in terms of design, but also sound.
